WILLIS WAILS

By Buster Willis

Looks like there will be some changes made: We hear from the proprietor of one of the Glades night spots that after having bought either a full year's or season's whiskey license for the past seven years he is going to be denied his license this year. And not because his place is in ill repute with the authorities. It seems that a school where only a handful of pupils are enrolled is located in one of the migratory camps and is open for its first time this year. This school is within 2500 feet of the night spot which is contrary to state law. But it seems that consideration should be given to the fact that the night spot has been established for years and if they wanted to build a school too close to it it certainly shouldn't jeopardize the man who has been established for years and has a large investment.

There'll be a lot of street improvements done in the next few weeks. At municipal court Monday Mayor Kirchman replenished the street crew from among negro offenders. Some were sentenced to 90 days on the streets and fined or another 90 days in lieu of the fine. Street Commissioner Franz was on hand to look over his new crew.

The U. S. Navy advertising campaign for recruits for that branch of Uncle Sam's service which started in Florida and Georgia last week is already bearing fruit. Plans for a Navy Day (or night) on October 27 are going forward and two prominent speakers have been secured for Belle Glade for that date. Judge C. E. Chillingworth, judge of our circuit court, who has just returned to West Palm Beach after active service in the Naval Reserve, and Charles Francis Coe, well known lawyer and writer and himself a former Navy man, are the two who have accepted invitations to be here on that date. "Admiral" Savage, our Navy editor, is doing most of the promoting.

South Bay, the youngest incorporated town in the county, is getting grown-up in politics and one of the strongest men in town seems to be Former Policeman Bob Varner. The duly elected chief of police took leave of absence immediately after he was elected and the commissioners appointed Bob acting chief. Now the elected chief, S. M. McAlister, has returned and is taking over the job. But Bob isn't going to leave South Bay. The commissioners like him enough that they have made him town clerk, tax collector, tax assessor and town treasurer, a position which has been ably filled until now by Mrs. Maldon Wright.

Salaries Raised and New Equipment Purchased

All members of the Belle Glade City Commission were present at the weekly session Wednesday night in a long drawn out session.

Many matters of important public business were considered and enacted and when all are completed city departments are going to be in better physical condition than in the history of the city.

The Commission directed attorney Herbert Beck to draw up the necessary legal papers covering the following projects:

The installation will be done by the Florida East Coast Railway at the expense of the Wedgworth company.

The purchase of four tires and tubes for the city dump truck from Shaw Brothers for $152.00.

Purchase of two used trucks for the city's street department at a cost of around $1,000.00.

The employment of night operator at the city water plant at a salary of $80.00 a month.

John Noles and Rev. J. E. Dillard officiated.

O. K. Radford was the speaker at the regular morning service which followed the Sunday School session. Mrs. O. H. Martin, clerk called the roll of the church membership. The evening services opened with the B. T. U. at 7:00 o'clock.

Reports from the various departments of the church took the place of the evening address. Mrs. W. M. Jeffries made the Sunday school report. Mrs C. J.

New Research Laboratory for Sugar Concern

Will Construct Laboratory For Agricultural Research

Clarence R. Bitting, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, has announced plans for the immediate construction of a research and control laboratory here at a cost of about $100,000.

The main structure of semi-modernistic design, will be two stories high, topped by a 3-foot parapet to provide testing areas on the roof. It will have a frontage of 80 feet and a depth of 52 feet and will be so designed as to permit the addition of five wings in a fan-like order. The central wing will be built at the same as the main structure.

The main structure and first wing will house four separate research and control laboratories and a modern testing kitchen.

"During the past year," Bitting said, "we have more than doubled our facilities for agricultural research, and the present step is an extension of such work into the fields of utilization of the products after they have been harvested.

"Through the work of our existing research organization we have developed, on a commercial scale, the production of lemongrass oil and recently have been the only source of supply for this important essential oil. Studies have shown the way to the production of root starches from sweet potatoes in the Everglades of which there is today an acute shortage.

"We have learned how to produce vegetable oils and fats in the Everglades and are hopeful that the work of the new facilities will develop ways and means of producing better products of this class than are now available."

Mr. Fears has leased the room formerly occupied by the Belle Glade Dry Goods company, adjoining his furniture store and will open the new store at that location. He will place an arch way between the two stores so that both may be under his personal supervision. The combined stores will be operated under the name of Fear's Department store.

Mike Murphy, who has been operating the store in Pahokee, will continue to be in charge of the clothing and dress department and will add a new line of clothing, dresses, shoes and other merchandise to the stock. Selective Service Board Has Quota 28 For Next Call

The Glades Selective Service Board has been called upon to furnish a new class of draftees for service call on October 20th. to the number of 28, all of them white, under 28 years of age. As the number of men subject to call under that age are growing fewer and fewer each call, it may be that the full quota cannot be secured.

The Board has been given notice that it is to notify all men enrolled, but not yet called, who are over 28 years of age, to come in for classification and notices are soon to be sent to each of these men. This is done so that if a time comes when they might be called in the national defense service that there will be no long delays in completing quotas.

Such men as may now be in the service, but who have been granted honorary discharges by their commanding officers or may later be released will still be under the supervision of the local selective service board but will be in a reserved relation.

So far 13 selective service men have been certified to leave Belle Glade on the next quota but several more may be added to the needed 28 before departure day. From Belle Glade, Cecil McGee Green, Marvin Francis Jackson, James Clifford Williams, William Joseph Sharpe, Lester Cebern Reeves; Bean City, Sterling Edmund Zywicki; Pahokee, Louis C. Marcangeli, Earl Munson Schutz; South Bay, Delemer Robert Hawkins; while four others who are subject to the District 4 board will be sent from the following points: Jerome Gillis, Pensacola; Woodrow Newman, Stark; David Selby Williams, Guian, Georgia; Dominick Leo Lipert, Freehold, New Jersey.

FOOD EXPERT TALKS TO SO. BAY GROUP

Miss Isabelle S. Thursby, state expert in food conservation for the Agricultural Extension Service with headquarters at Tallahassee, was at the Health Center in South Bay on Thursday and made a talk under the auspices of the Home Demonstration Senior Council, one of a series of four talks in Palm Beach county last week, as arranged by Mrs. Edith Y. Barrus county home demonstration agent.

Miss Thursby discussed the importance of the home garden, conserving the surplus and saving the waste. "Transportation facilities having been deflected to national defense makes it necessary", she said, "for us to be as nearly self sufficient in the matter of food supply as is possible." She urged using the native fruits instead of buying canned or fresh fruit from other sections and the planting of a greater variety of fruits and vegetables. Only first quality vegetables should be canned for home consumption she said. New ways of preparing and serving were brought out. She demonstrated and served dill cucumber and okra pickles, youngberry jam and papaya preserves.

Mrs. W. C. Allen Is Honored By The Navy

Mrs W. C. Allen of South Bay was presented with a Navy recruiter pin by Chief Navy Recruiter Hull of Miami on Tuesday of this week in recognition of her services in securing many recruits for the Navy in the past year. Mrs Allen may also qualify as one of the "Navy Moms" as she has on many occasions opened her home to Navy boys in the Coast Guard who are far from home and mother. Several from Riveria Coast Guard station have spent the weekend in the Allen home and one was taken into the home to recuperate from a major operation at the Good Samaritan hospital and remained there until able to travel home to see his own mother in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen have two sons in the Navy, Wiliam Allen, Jr., who is in the radio Naval training station at Jacksonville, and James Allen, who enlisted in the Navy at Norfolk, Va., was honorably discharged on account of physical disability and after recovering from a major operation re-enlisted in the Navy.

Mrs. Allen has distributed posters and literature for the Naval recruiting work in South Bay, Belle Glade, Bean City and Lake Harbor. Time and again she has contributed time and gas to take boys to West Palm Beach and Miami to enlist and have their physical examinations. On Thursday she motored Herman Hobbs of South Bay to Miami and saw him off for the Navy. Accompanying her were the Reverend John Noles, Jane Vivian Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hobbs and Tommie Hobs.

Freemans Returning

Ralph Freeman, who has been spending some time in Ohio, is expected to arrive in Belle Glade over the coming week end and will again be connected with Raoul and Haney at its precooling and shipping station.

Club On Kreamer Island Is Formed By Glades Group

Recreational and Social Activities Aim of Organization

The Lake Okeechobee Fishing and Hunting Club has been organized by a group of the Everglades leading citizens and has secured a 10-year lease on the Weaver Jordan property on the extreme north end of Kreamer Island for a club site.

Dr. William J. Buck is president of the new organization and other officers are: Luther Jones, vice president; Archie Harris, secretary and J. C. Caffey, treasurer. The board of directors is composed of Arthur Wells, Hubie Chamblee, H. L. Haney, W. C. Lord, Sam Fleming, A. E. Kirchman, W. H. Vann, R. G. Johnson, Jr., Sam Chastain and Harvey McIntosh.

The house committee, whose duty it will be to get the property in condition for habitation, is composed of W. C. Lord as chairman, Arthur Wells, and R. G. Johnson, Jr. The membership committee is headed by Sam Chastain as chairman, Luther Jones, J. C. Caffey, Howard Haney and A. E. Kirchman.

National Navy Day Will Be Achieved In Belle Glade

By Clifford B. Savage

On October 27, National Navy Day, a meeting of unusual interest will be held in Belle Glade as part of the drive for enlistments in the Navy and Naval Reserve.

Charles Francis (Socker) Coe, outstanding writer and orator, and Judge C. E. Chillingsworth of West Palm Beach, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, will speak.

The Navy Day committee has been promised the Pahokee High School band and a special invitation has been extended to the Rotary and Lions Clubs of Belle Glade and Pahokee and to the American Legion Posts of both towns.

This meeting should be attended by parents who have sons at or near military age for the men who will speak know the Navy. Mr. Coe was in the Navy eight years during which time he was a champion boxer. Judge Chillingsworth served during the first World War and just returned to his judgeship from a tour of duty in the Naval Reserve.

It has been frequently said that no military service in the world excells that of the United States Navy in valuable training. This means much to the youth of our land for sometime the war will be over and men properly trained in the trades, seamanship, navigation and the various branches of aviation will be in real demand for well paying and permanent jobs.

It is easy for me to brag about the Navy for I got a lot out of my two and one half years of active service during World War Number One.

The Navy Day committee would appreciate hearing from ex-Navy men in the community and will be glad to put what they say about the Navy in print. Let's put this Navy Day over.

THINGS THEY'VE LEARNED

Helpful Information Given In Question And Answer Form

What determines the choice of varieties to be crossed in cane breeding?

Assuming that a given variety will tassel and produce fertile seed it must have some desirable qualities.

In addition it is assumed that like produces like. The old adage was "Like produces like" or "Like father, like son." As in human beings so in sugar cane it has been found that there is only a tendency to do this. Only highly inbred races bear out the old adage. Sugar cane is in no sense highly inbred. In making crosses with the highly cross bred sugar cane we try to make all possible combinations. If we find that certain of these are tending in the direction we are aiming we repeat on a larger scale, year after year in order to have large populations of seedlings from which to select.

What are our aims?

In general it may be said that we are trying to produce sugar cane varieties for the Glades that will enable us to produce sugar cheaply for the consumer with profit to the grower, the processors, and the distributors. Sugar is made in the field. It is made in the leaves of the cane plant and stored in the stalk.

The two most important factors in sugar production are high tonnage and high sugar production. In general they are mutually exclusive. Most high tonnage canes are not very sweet and most high sugar canes are unusually poor in tonnage production. What we are seeking is the exceptional individual that combines both of these qualities. In adition to possessing these characters inherently the canes must be free or very resistant to diseases. There are several leaf diseases that must be avoided.

One of these is mosaic or yellow stripe disease. This disease can cut production 15 to 20 per cent. There is no remedy for this disease but freedom from it, high resistance or a tolerance that permits the plant to grow well and produce profitable crops in spite of the disease. Nearly 50 years ago the Dutch in Java made crosses with a wild, thin cane useless as far as sugar production was concerned but immune to mosaic. The disease free progeny of this cross were back-crossed on the large bar-

CHOOSE YOUR BRANCH OF SERVICE

Any man who expects to go into any branch of the armed forces of our country, whether as a volunteer or under the selective act, would do well to investigate the opportunities available to him in the various branches of service

Since this newspaper is cooperating with the Naval Recruiting Service for a period of four weeks, possibly longer, in an effort to get more enlistments in this strictly volunteer branch, we urge every young man concerned to read the series of advertisements appearing in this paper. Fill out the coupon and bring or mail it to us for further information which we shall be glad to furnish.

After thorough investigation, make your own choice. No potential naval recruit is ever high-pressured into enlisting.
